Esther The Musical

by Lori Jacobs

Jan 30 to Feb. 9

Join us for three compelling plays PLUS a musical!

H*tlers Tasters shows us how easy it is to become devoted to a charismatic leader. This dark comedy based on facts, goes back 80 years to a story that has real relevance today. This show will be staged at the new Dog Story Theater, 340 State Street SE.

In the new year, we present a tale that has been repeated for over a thousand years. Esther, The Musical is a toe tapping show that's guaranteed fun for the whole family. By popular demand, it's the third revival on GRCC's Spectrum Stage.

We return to the intimate Dog Story stage for Oh, My God. Imagine if God walks into a psychologist's office...Its funny for a while... until it's not. This dark comedy will leave you with more questions than answers.

Finally, we move back to the GRCC main stage for Kindertransport. This award winning modern classic centers on the WWII era rescue effort that separated Jewish children from their families to keep them safe.

All these plays center on the theme Sisters Surviving—women finding inner strength to face adversity. All four were written by women.

GRCC's Spectrum Theater: 160 Fountain St NE

Get Involved

Jewish Theatre is a touchstone cultural resource in Grand Rapids that couldn't exist without the generosity of our donors. Presenting quality drama that resonates and educates is an expensive venture that ticket sales alone can't fund. Each year, nearly 100 actors, directors, designers, stagehands and other volunteers craft experiences that only live theater can produce—but your help is needed to sustain this effort. Please consider making a generous donation to Jewish Theatre Grand Rapids.

It's easy to order your Flex Pass and make a donation using the form in this brochure OR our website box office. Scan this code or connect to JTGR.org for instant access. Thank you!
